

Germans Continue Attempts to Pierce Allies' Center

Paris, Sept. 24.—The bloodiest fighting of the great battle of the Aisne, now in the twelfth day, is going on along the German right wing, where the allies are struggling furiously to cut off and surround General Von Kluck, who is defending the Mons route of German communications. Von Kluck's battle front extends through Cambrai, Bouchain, Denain and St. Amant. Germans continue attempts to pierce the allies' center, but without success.

The allies continue to reinforce their troops attacking General Von Kluck and it is believed the Germans cannot hold out much longer. One of Von Kluck's staff generals was captured near Amiens.

A Petrograd dispatch says General Rennenkampf has defeated the Germans he lured into Russian territory. Soudan has been retaken by the Russians. Germans are evacuating East Prussia to reinforce the Thon Kallisz front.

An official statement this afternoon states that the allies left wing is steadily progressing and has occupied Peronne. Germans are making an effort to recapture the place. Peronne is about seventy-five miles northeast of Paris.

NO CHANGE IN U. S. ATTITUDE TOWARD MEXICO

Washington, Sept. 24.—There will be no change in the attitude of the United States toward Mexico because of the Carranza-Villa break. It was announced by the White House. American troops will be withdrawn as planned. There will be no recognition of the Villa revolt.

The administration expects Carranza to yield to the principal demands of Villa and the trouble be settled in a short time. The breach was not unexpected. It is pointed out that Carranza is a big land owner and is inclined to go slow in giving lands to peons.

RAILWAY MAIL CLERKS COMPLAIN OF THREATS

Washington, Sept. 24.—Senator Borah charged in the senate today that railway mail clerks had been threatened with dismissal by the superintendent of the service because they had signed petitions in favor of his bill to prevent the use of stop watches or other time-marking devices. He declared he had received letters from several railway employees asking him to withdraw their names from petitions because they had been threatened. He wanted to get these letters to the postmaster general through the postoffice committee.

101 FREIGHT CARS MAKE UP A. C. L. TRAIN

Waycross, Ga., Sept. 24.—Carrying one hundred and one cars, many of them loaded, an Atlantic Coast Line extra freight left Waycross late today for Savannah and Charleston. It is the longest train ever operated over this district, and one of the longest, if not the longest, handled by one engine in the south. Engineer Saunders and Conductor Bassett, both of Savannah were in charge. Engine No. 273, a new type recently added to the Coast Line's rolling stock, pulled the record train.

K. OF P. MEETING TONIGHT.

There will be a meeting of Bepoyance Lodge, K. of P., at the lodge hall tonight at 7:30. All brethren are invited.

M. Cherry, C. C.

"Yes, it may be just possible; but if so we should not be here, and in all Germany there would not be more than 50,000 men left between the ages of 17 and 50."

"My own opinion," added Wood, "is that the war will be stopped by mediation within a month. But when I suggested it to a German officer he said, 'It's no good talking to us about mediation till we've occupied Paris and St. Petersburg. Then we might listen to you.'"

Wood found considerable bitterness against England, and he was rarely successful in persuading anyone to believe that England was fighting Prussian militarism rather than the German people.

"They won't believe it," he said. "They think that England wants to crush Germany and they will all fight to the last ditch rather than submit. I saw no sign of any disunion among the Socialists. English people are treated well."

SCHEDULE IS NOT PRACTICAL

Shuttle Train to Fair Grounds Should Come Down Town.—Last Train Should Depart Later Than 7:30 in the Evening.

The schedule and arrangements for the operation of a shuttle train to the fair grounds, have by no means received the approbation of the general public, because the last train leaving for the grounds at night, according to the published schedule, departs at about 7:30 o'clock. At this hour in the Fall, the average enterprising Dothan merchant will not have closed his doors, and consequently will have no means of transportation to the grounds unless he takes an automobile, engages a conveyance or walks.

Then again, the shuttle train will be operated from the Coast Line station in Dixie instead of from some point down town. The Coast Line passenger station is almost half way between Dothan and the fair grounds. If one has to walk to the Coast Line station to take a train to the fair grounds, just as well walk the balance of the way.

The sentiment of the people of Dothan is that the shuttle train should operate from some point down town, so as to be of some real service in the transportation of passengers to the fair grounds. The Coast Line people, it is said, should be willing to co-operate in this movement, and operate a train that will accommodate the large numbers of people who will not doubt be in attendance at the first annual exhibition of the Southeast Alabama Fair Association in Dothan, October 26 to 31.

Another feature in the schedule, perfected, whereby the last train departs for the fair grounds about 7:30 o'clock in the evening, while the last train should leave at least as late as ten o'clock. There are many persons in the city who can not leave their places of business as early as 7:30 o'clock in the evening.

Coast Line Is Willing To Co-operate

A. H. Shepard, freight claim agent of the Atlantic Coast Line railroad, with headquarters at Wilmington, N. C., has written a letter to J. B. Leach, manager of the freight claim bureau in connection with the Chamber of Commerce, giving assurances of co-operation in the work.

The letter from Mr. Shepard indicates that the railroad company is willing to co-operate with the bureau, which has only been in operation for three or four weeks, being a new affiliation of the Chamber of Commerce.

TURPENTINE FARMERS' COMMITTEE MEETS

Savannah, Ga., Sept. 24.—The executive committee of the Turpentine Farmers' association, formed at a recent meeting in Montgomery, Ala., met here this afternoon to determine location of a headquarters for the organization, select a selling agent to represent the entire trade and to discuss the question of uniform prices for turpentine and resin during the European war situation.

REPORT SAYS BEDSOLE IN HOUSE DEFIANT

News Reaches Dothan That Fugitive Is At His Home, Surrounded by Posse, But Capture Not Effected.

Clarence Bedsole, charged with killing Joe, Jerome and Ferando Jordan last Friday, is surrounded by his house near Columbia by a posse, but has not been captured. His escape is believed to be successfully blocked by armed men guarding the premises.

Tom Killingsworth, a reliable citizen, went from Columbia to Ashford Thursday morning about 2 o'clock, and conveyed the above message to Dr. Fite, who in turn telephoned Sheriff-Elect John May. Mr. May conveyed the message to Sheriff Ben O. Hay, asking for assistance, and the Houston county sheriff told The Eagle. The report seems to be authentic and is the most reliable information that can be obtained at this writing. The Eagle telephoned R. L. Williams at Columbia, and he said that a similar report had been heard in that town.

An effort was made to communicate with Freeman Douglass, who lives near the scene of the tragedies, and who has a telephone, but the rural line from Columbia to his place was not in working order.

Sheriff Hay of Houston county does not contemplate the organization of a posse to go to the home of Clarence Bedsole and capture the man, unless he has orders from the Governor, or unless a reward is offered. At 10 o'clock Thursday morning Sheriff Hay was considering the advisability of communicating with Governor O'Neal.

Many have thought that the Governor would offer a reward for the apprehension of Bedsole, but insofar as is known, the chief executive has taken no such action.

AUSTRIANS RESIST RUSSIAN ADVANCE

Petrograd, Sept. 24.—Rallying forces behind the White river, the Austrian army reinforced by Germans, is making stubborn resistance to the Russian advance, but Russians are steadily progressing, according to the war office. The battle line extends from near Jaslo to Debica.

Bombardment of Przemyel by Russian continues and with that place invaded Austrians are proceeding toward Cracow, their present objective.

MAY DEDUCT TAXES PAID BY MERCHANTS

Washington, Sept. 24.—Negotiations are on with General Carranza for assurances that Mexican merchants who have paid customs duties to American officials at Vera Cruz will not be subject to a second taxation when the United States relinquishes control of the port. It has been suggested to accede to the latest request the United States, instead of paying the impounded customs over to him, should return them to those who have made the payments. Officials do not anticipate any trouble.

U. S. And Spain To Co-operate For Peace

Madrid, Spain, Sept. 24.—Negotiations between the United States and Spain with a view to the co-operation of the two countries in peace efforts are under way here. They may result in the more. They will await the opportune time before offering their good offices.

BATTLESHIP GOES TO PROTECT AMERICAN INTERESTS

Washington, Sept. 24.—The battleship North Carolina today was ordered from Brandt to Constantinople to protect American interests.

WIRELESS STATION SEIZED.

Washington, Sept. 24.—Secretary Daniels ordered seizure of the Sinaconet wireless station today.

THE TURKISH AMBASSADOR TO LEAVE WASHINGTON

Washington, Sept. 24.—A Russian spy, the Turkish ambassador, notified the White House today that in view of the displeasure of the government towards him because of recent interviews, he had asked his government for a leave of absence, and will leave Washington.

The White House made no comment. It is understood he told the President he had not changed his views.

SHIPMENTS OF LUMBER ARE BEING RESUMED

Mobile, Ala., Sept. 24.—Lumber shipments from Mobile to Europe, which were abruptly canceled late in July when the nations of Europe went to war, are being resumed and according to exporters, it will take many steamers and some time to fulfill all the orders that will come to the lumber dealers of the south. Already two steamers have left for English ports and several more are under charter.

LINCOLN'S DRAFT PLEA IS QUOTED IN LONDON

London, Sept. 24.—The Spectator in an article on "President Lincoln's and compulsory service," gives as a basis Lincoln's plea for the draft as taken from John Hay's biography of Lincoln. The paper says that England is likely to get out of the war without commencing a conscription system, but they are during the war, the voluntary system is a good deal of assistance.

Washington, Sept. 24.—Secretary Daniels announced late today that the battleship Texas had been ordered to proceed from New York to Vera Cruz, Mexico, to relieve one of the vessels stationed there, presumably the Arkansas. The Secretary also said the Texas had been instructed to visit Galveston within the next several weeks to receive a delivery service from the state where same she bears.

EXPECT BLOODY FIGHTING BETWEEN CARRANZA AND VILLA

El Paso, Tex., Sept. 24.—The Carranza-Villa war is expected to bring about the bloodiest fighting ever seen in the war-torn republic. Troops of both sides are advancing to battle, which probably will be fought in the State of Zacatecas on the line of the National Railway.

The break occurred over Villa's demands that immense estates be broken up and divided among the peons. Carranza likely will be able to utilize a large part of Huerta's army, while Villa can raise about fifty thousand men.

BRITISH AND JAPANESE MARCH ON KAI CHAU

Tokio, Sept. 24.—The war office announces that British troops co-operating with Japanese began march on Kato Chau Wednesday from Liao-shan Bay.

NO MORE BACK DOORS FOR THE MAIL CARRIERS

Washington, Sept. 24.—Housewives and business men in many cities who have been accustomed to receiving their mail from obliging carriers at rear and side doors, now must arrange to have postman call only at the front entrances. Instructions to this effect were mailed to postmasters today, to become operative in two months.

Many carriers lost much time, it was said, by making circuitous routes to rear and side doors to oblige the patrons on their routes.

HENRY GRADY ON COTTON.

What a royal plant it is! The world waits in attendance upon its growth. The showers that fall whispering on its leaves are heard around the earth. The sun that shines upon it is tempered by the prayers of all the people. The frosts that chill it and the dew that descends from the stars are noted, and the trespass of a little worm upon its leaves means more to England and to English homes than the advance of a Russian army upon her Asian frontier. It is gold from the time it put forth its tiniest shoot. Its foliage decks the somber earth in emerald sheen. Its blossoms reflect the brilliant hues of sunset in the southern skies and put to shame the loveliest rose, and when loosing its snowy fleeces to the sun it floats a banner that glorifies the field of the humble farmer, that man is marveled under a flag that will compel the allegiance of the world and wring a tribute from every nation of the earth. Its fiber is current in every bank in the world. Its oils add luxury to lordly banquets in noble halls, and brings comfort to lowly homes in every clime. Its flour gives to man a food richer in health-producing value than any earth has ever known, and a curative agent long sought and found in nothing else. Its meal is feed for every beast that bows to do man's labor from Norway's frozen peaks to Africa's parched plains. It is a heritage that God gave to this people, when He arched the skies, established our mountains, girded us about with oceans, tempered the sunshine and measured the rain. Ours and our children's forever and forever—and no princely talent ever came from His Omnipotent hand to mortal stewardship.

NO JUSTIFICATION FOR LOW PRICES.

The Progressive Farmer.

The very first thing we ought to remember about the present low prices of cotton, and everlastingly emphasize, is that there is absolutely no justification for these low prices.

It was not to be expected that cotton would remain at the price it was when the war broke out, but a two-cent drop in prices was the uttermost that should have happened, and the wild talk about half the world's consumption being cut off is largely to blame for its going lower. For those irresponsible people who started such falsehoods through thoughtlessness or ignorance, there may be some excuse, but we fear that many people have repeated such statements simply in the hope of buying cotton cheap. In any case, farmers everywhere should be on the lookout for such people and nail these statements. They get a start. As the pound, regardless of what the price is, is out in revolutions may be.—Florence Times.

adopted in one cotton meeting last week:

"While fully recognizing the seriousness of the present cotton situation, we warn our farmers against becoming panic-stricken by extreme statements regarding the quantities of cotton to be carried over; and remind them, first, that the English operatives are very few liable to military draft, and shipping facilities are fast improving; and second, that only 10 per cent of the world's spindles are in Germany and Austria and only 15 per cent in these countries and France, and even if all these spindles should stop, the loss would be materially made good by the increased consumption of American mills. Therefore we warn our people that there is absolutely no justification for the colossal depreciation in market values these last thirty days."

It may be well for to give just here the number of spindles in the leading cotton manufacturing countries, as follows: Great Britain 57,000,000; United States, 30,500,000; Germany, 10,925,000; Russia, 8,950,000; France, 7,400,000; British India, 6,465,000, etc. The world's total is 147,730,000.

ABOUT COTTON SEED.

Opelika News.

We suspect that most of our farmer readers have already been thinking upon and getting some figures to the subject of cotton seed and the price the trust is now taking them in at. However, at the risk of proving wearysome to them the Daily News feels called upon to make a few remarks on that subject. At thirteen dollars per ton cotton seed are the very cheapest fertilizer that the farmers can possibly get hold of. There is no reason or excuse on earth for a man who intends to farm next year to sell his cotton seed at thirteen dollars per ton. In fact, so long as the price remains below $24.00 per ton they should be held on to by farmers and used as fertilizer. We are not so sure that even at and above that price the farmers do not make a mistake to sell them.

Even at 8 cents per pound it looks to us like the farmer who is just obliged to have a few dollars in cash would do better to sell a bale or two of cotton and hold on to his seed than he will by practically giving them to the crushers at sixty-five cents per hundred.

Let's see if we can't figure that out as the most profitable transaction. The time will come during this season when the crushers will be glad to get seed at $26.00 per ton, especially will that be the case if those who have seed refuse to give them away at 65 cents per 100 pounds. That will be a gain of one hundred per cent; should cotton go to 12 cents later on that would only be a gain of fifty per cent over the 8 cent price. So it appears clear to us that the farmer who refuses to give up his seed for less than $26.00 and supplies his absolutely necessary cash requirements by selling some cotton at 8 cents will make money in the deal.

It most certainly looks like something should be done, certainly something could be done, to protect the farmers from the manifest determination of the crushers to get their seed for a song, regardless of the fact that the products of the seed are not equal to the demand at prices equal or better than they were when seed were selling for $25 to $30 per ton.

Should Save all the Cotton.

It is said that in some quarters there is a disposition not to save the cotton that has already been made. Such a course would be worse than folly. Our advice is to pick every pound, regardless of what the price is, and save it.—Birmingham News.

WILL THIS BE THE RESULT?

Mobile Register.

When Mr. Charles Henderson and Governor O'Neal signed the celebrated compromise with the railroads by which the rate suits were withdrawn from the courts, The Register in common with many other papers in Alabama, sounded a note of warning. The people were informed by Mr. Henderson that this compromise "would end railroad agitation in Alabama," and that the railroads would all put in the passenger rate of 2 1/2 cents.

It now develops that there has been no end to railroad agitation. The Louisville and Nashville Railroad, which was the chief "agitator" among the railroads and the chief beneficiary by the compromise, is making a hard and continuous fight before the State Railroad Commission for a raise in freight rate, which if granted, will prove very profitable to that railroad.

On one item alone, the Anniston Star being the authority for the statement, if the raise in the rate on coal to the Anniston-Gadsden-Attalla district is granted, the Louisville and Nashville will make $1,500,000 a year over what it takes in today. Very well indeed could this railroad lose $200,000 a year in passenger fares, which it claimed to be losing, if in exchange it can get this pretty raise of a million and a half.

What will the railroad commission do about it? Will it do as it did in the Idaho potato case, double the rate interstate and shut the Idaho farmers out of the home market? If Mr. Henderson was sincere in his pledge to the people that the end of railroad agitation is here, he will make good on the pledge in the matter of this rate on coal. The industries in the affected district and the railroads that carry the coal there have prospered for years under the rate, and unless it can be shown that this is not true, the rate should remain unchanged.

Peace Treaties Worthless.

Secretary Bryan hopes to have 30 treaties of peace ratified by Congress, "thus assuring the peace of the United States with all the world," as he expresses it. Good enough—if they stick. But treaties of peace are easily torn number, as witness the little unpleasantness of our neighbors across the pond.—Lake City (Fla.) Citizen-Reporter.

Snakes Held Sacred in China.

It is not always safe to kill a snake in China. It doesn't matter much whether the snake is of the water species or of the land variety, for within this reptile's body is supposed to reside the spirit of what the yellow men worship as the Dragon King. This latter is believed by the average superstitious "John" to have the power of ruling over floods. This dragon King represents one symbol in the ritual worship of the Chinese religion called Taoism.

English Soap Clubs.

"Soap clubs held here," is the notice in a shop window in Soho, London. On inquiry it was found that the clubs were similar to the hat and feather clubs which abound in Whitechapel and Bethnal Green. The money is pooled together every week for soap, and there is a draw who shall have it first. You may be lucky and get your soap the first week you join the club, or you may have to wait three months. But a glance at Soho waiting for soap suggests that it is not such a terrible hardship as it appears at first sight.

So valuable is good garden soil that the Arab will refuse $5,000 an acre for it. Through ages of cultivation it gives no indication of wearing out, hence the exceptional value placed upon it.

THE PERFECT WARDROBE CONTAINS APRONS OF DIFFERENT SORTS

As a matter of fact, no wardrobe is complete without its share of aprons, for the apron protects and saves the gown and, if they are well chosen and prettily made, they are charming in effect. In this group, there are shown those that are adapted to the

be made from lawn, batiste and similar dainty materials in white or in some little colored design. There is no one of them that will occupy any considerable time in the making. They are all pretty and attractive besides serving a useful end.

chafing dish supper, those that are adapted to fancy work and the lighter forms of sewing and one that is essentially practical and serviceable for the hours that are given over to more prosaic tasks. It is made with front and back portions closed at the sides and it is especially valuable for any woman whose occupation means continuous sitting since it protects the back of the skirt and saves that rubbing of the material that so often results disastrously.

The apron with the big pockets at the extreme lower left is really invaluable for the woman who loves embroidery or needle work of any kind. The pocket keeps all the materials immediately at hand and the little apron, besides serving to protect the skirt keeps everything in readiness and, consequently, is especially desirable for the pick-up work that so often must be laid aside without warning. As the apron is shown here, it is made of white organdy with trimming of white lace but some of the seasons flowered silks are very dainty and pretty in effect and seem especially well suited to such purpose.

THE FASCINATING DANCE BRINGS MANY REQUIREMENTS
By MAY MANTON

THERE is no prettier or more fashionable combination than that of lace with tulle. This frock is all white with the color found in the rosebud trimming and in the bunch of roses. It is very dainty, very charming and, at the same time, eminently youthful. The plain one-piece blouse can be made just as it is here or with a fish-like portion to match the puffed tunic. The skirt is made all in one piece with the tunics arranged over it and, in this instance, lace flouncing falls over the skirt below the puffs. In the Jack view, the skirt is shown without the flounce and it will be found desirable for tulle and for the soft gauze that are so much worn throughout the autumn and for almost any material suitable to a dressy costume.

ALMOST every possible kind of lace flouncing is fashionable this season and, since the long straight tunics are greatly in vogue, lace is used to great advantage. This young girl's costume, for example, is made of white tulle and white lace, the result being an extremely dainty gown available for various afternoon functions. If preferred, the sleeves can be made shorter and the flaring collar omitted giving just the round neck finish, but the long sleeves make a somewhat important feature of latest fashions. The frock is a very simple one in spite of its extreme smartness and consists of a two-piece skirt with a tunic arranged over it and a blouse that is full below a yoke. In the smaller view, it is shown made of striped and plain wool material and the result is a simple dress that could be used for school or college or any every day occasion. When one model can be made to serve for two such widely different purposes and effect two such distinctly different costumes, it is indeed an available one.

A PRETTY NEGLIGEE ALWAYS FINDS A READY WELCOME

NO matter how many garments of similar sort may be in a woman's wardrobe, there is always room for another pretty negligee. These, while they are all smart, are so distinctly different in style that each fills its own special place.

The draped negligee with its soft, becoming frills is essentially dainty and charming, really ideal to wear in the boudoir or even with a skirt to match to the home breakfast table. In the picture, it is made of a dainty embroidered muslin with frills of handkerchief linen but, for the cooler weather, velvet or albatross would be pretty with frills of lace.

The house jacket, with the tucked fronts and the one with the big rolling collar are very practical as well as charming garments. They can be made easily and quickly and a change of negligees adds greatly to a woman's comfort while, at the same time, they serve a really economical end as they are apt to mean a saving of the blouse and gown designed for more formal wear.

HERE is a design for underdrawing a Collar and Cuffs for a Child's Dress or Coat.

The scalloped edge is to be pointed and buttoned. The lower, dot and conventionalized details can be worked either singly or as a system. The steps are to be outlined.

To pad the neckline, work dots over between the lines, leaving at the center and higher at the points; or, use a shell of thread and apply two or three rows over the center of the neckline, leaving a space within the lines, working in a curving style, gathering the threads closely at each end of the row. Join these horizontal rows.

WHY ADVERTISE NOW?

We are asked to advise if, under present conditions, advertising should be curtailed.

But each line has its own unique "present conditions." Such a question involves several forms of advice.

These are boom times in some lines. Many factories are overwhelmed with orders. Some face a demand far beyond their capacity.

Some cater largely to farmers, and farmers in general seem this year to be getting rather more than their share of prosperity. The farmer with full pockets finds nothing too good for him. He's a magnificent spender.

Those fortunate advertisers who are oversold can very wisely cut down on their advertising. There is no virtue in selling more than one can deliver.

There are other lines imported, or requiring imported materials, on which there is stoppage of supplies.

There are lines which for these, or other transient reasons, sell now at abnormal prices. These are lines sold at fixed prices, on which advancing costs have decimated profits for a time. On all such lines one might advise curtailment in all forms of salesmanship.

But "present conditions" in general mean a degree of depression, a shade of uncertainty. And the query is, if in such situations advertising should be curtailed or stopped.

By all means, no. Should a runner stop for a rising grade, or a swimmer for an adverse tide? If they did, where might there rivals in the race be when they started up?

Advertising ought to be the cheapest salesmanship. Also the most efficient. If it is that, then it is the last force to reduce. If it isn't then it needs, in good or bad times, rehabilitation.

In national advertising our most prosperous times come during business depression. Then is when men who are on the right lines fight hardest. Then is when waste is eliminated, and the cheapest and best methods are used to the limit. And then is when the weak and inefficient abandon the field to the stronger.

There may be less business to get in dull times, but there are also less men who use the best ways to get it. Some of the greatest harvests ever gathered in advertising have been gathered in times of depression.

We find that good advertising is rarely stopped by misfortune. It is ten times as often stopped by over-demand.

The chief clients of this house are today pressing advertising harder than ever before.

But is this in reality any time to feel blue? Doesn't it look as though we might be on the verge of unprecedented business prosperity?

Home prospects look better than usual. Big crops at high prices bring smiles to the faces of nearly one-half of our people. The railroads got a little encouragement. Our new banking system will ward off some dangers.

Then what new boons may come to us—like gifts from the dead—as the result of this pitiful war? Reason tells us they must come if we reach out to get them. Life still flows on amid that devastation. People must be clothed and fed. And the markets abandoned by the nations which held them should be supplied by us.

When millions desert the art of peace, those who abide, well-equipped and ready, surely ought to prosper.

As for war news affecting the value of ads it certainly doesn't detract from them. It is giving to advertisers increased circulation, with no advance in cost.

The argument that it makes newspapers too interesting is a new one in advertising. The most interesting magazine^s have always been the best patronized. Why should we seek for dull newspapers?

In any event, the average woman is not a great reader of news. Her favorite pages in the newspaper remain about as ever. She is the household buyer. And the majority of advertising—even on men's things—depends on its appeal

No, these are not times to cease advertising, say under rare conditions. The harder the fight the more one needs his best weapons. The more quitters there are the more there is for the rest of us. And we who keep ready and active and fit—who keep in the thick of things, dull times and good—will hold immeasurable advantage when the tide comes in.

Saved Girl's Life

"I want to tell you what wonderful benefit I have received from the use of Thedford's Black-Draught," writes Mrs. Sylvania Woods, of Clifton Mills, Ky.

"It certainly has no equal for la grippe, bad cold, liver and stomach troubles. I firmly believe Black-Draught saved my little girl's life. When she had the measles, they went in on her, but one good dose of Thedford's Black-Draught made them break out, and she has had no more trouble. I shall never be without in my home." For constipation, indigestion, headache, dizziness, malaria, chills and fever, biliousness, and all similar ailments, Thedford's Black-Draught has proved itself a safe, reliable, gentle and valuable remedy.

If you suffer from any of these complaints, try Black-Draught. It is a medicine of known merit. Seventy-five years of splendid success proves its value. Good for young and old. For sale everywhere. Price 25 cents.

PRAYERS FOR PEACE

Suggested for October 4, 1914

By the

FEDERAL COUNCIL OF THE CHURCHES OF CHRIST IN AMERICA

By JULIA G. WALES.

"O God and Father of all nations, who hast set us in families and tribes upon the earth and thru the love of parents and children, of brothers and sisters, hast created in our hearts the love of our neighbor, we beseech Thee, that peace which the world cannot give. By our own laws, for our own faith, for our own rulers and leaders, for the earth and shrines, for the hills and streams of our country, let us know and understand the love of the Father for the land of his fathers; let us honor that love and reverence it as we would have him honor us by thy mighty love, O Father, shut out all hatred from our hearts, all insincerity and self-seeking, all pride and vain glory, all desire for might and power, all desire for the welfare of the human family. Give to us the utter humility of spirit which alone can discern how best to seek that universal welfare. None of us has clean hands. O Lord, we have all sinned before thee in times and ways without number. We have sought our own; we have oppressed the helpless. In bitter penitence we confess our sins; we beseech Thee to remove our transgressions from us. Suffer them no longer to come between us and the knowledge of Thy most holy will.

"Though it be that we must suffer, grant O God, we beseech Thee, that Thy truth be not darkened on the earth. By our stained fields and ruined cities, by the terrors of death, by the agony of the wounded, by the tears of the widow, by the bowed head of the aged and the desolation of little children, may we atone, O God, Out of our anguish bring peace. With our blood, if it must be, quench the fires of hatred forever. Let a new love be born, a love never yet known on the earth—the great love of a people for a people, of strong nation for strong nation, the civility of the strong to the weak, the trust of the weak in the strong. Give peace in our time, O God. May our prayers go up before Thee continually until they become once voice, the Voice of all nations. O Father of mankind, have mercy upon us for Thy mercy's sake. Amen."

ILLINOIS AIDS SOUTH.

Great interest is being manifested in the "buy a bale of cotton" plan in the north, east and west, as is indicated by the various newspapers. The Rockford (Ill.) Register-Gazette, which probably received one of the letters sent out by the Chamber of Commerce, prints a page display ad, urging people to buy a bale of cotton to help the South. No cotton is grown in Illinois.

WELL KNOWN AFAR.

The Chamber of Commerce is becoming well known afar. For instance, Whitehead & Hong Company, of Newark, N. J., writes that they have heard so much of the enterprise of the local organization, that they would like to design an advertisement. Of course, they are seeking business, but the letter shows that the activities of the organization are becoming known afar.

ALABAMA METHODIST ORPHAN-AGE.

The Alabama Methodist Orphanage is owned by the Alabama and the North Alabama Conferences. It was established twenty-four years ago, and located at Summerfield, Ala., where it remained until three years ago, at which time it was removed to Selma, Ala., where it is located at present. Since its organization the Orphanage has cared for about 740 children. There are at present about 90 children in the home.

We are trying to do four things for our children. First, we are trying to make them healthy and strong. This is done by giving proper food, clothing, medical attention, and sanitary restriction. Secondly, we are training them to work. The girls are taught sewing, laundering, cooking, and housekeeping. The boys are taught farming, dairying and stock raising. Thirdly, we are trying to educate them. We have full advantage of the splendid system of Public Schools of Selma. They are kept in school the entire scholastic year, if not prevented by sickness. With diligence on the part of the child they can complete the high school course while with us. Fourthly, we are trying to train them religiously. This is done in the daily chapel services, in Sunday School, in the Epworth League, and by exemplifying the Christian life before them in our own lives.

The 3rd day of October is Work Day for the Orphans. On this day every one is asked to lay aside the value of that day's work for the Orphanage. Sunday, the 4th day of October, is the day for the Sunday School exercises. Every one is expected to attend and give to the collection which will be taken. The amount made on the preceding day. Since we take children irrespective of religious views we feel free to ask every one to contribute on that day to the value of one day's work. Thanking you in advance for what you do for our orphan children, I am, Truly yours, J. C. CRAIG, Supt. and Agt.

IMPORTANT TO ALL WOMEN READERS OF THIS PAPER

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney or bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaint often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

You may suffer a great deal with pain in the back, bearing-down feelings, headache and loss of ambition.

Poor health makes you nervous, irritable and may be despondent; it makes any one so.

But hundreds of women claim that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, by restoring health to the kidneys, proved to be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

A good kidney medicine, possessing real healing and curative value, should be a blessing to thousands of nervous, over-worked women.

Many send for a sample bottle to see what Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy will do for them. Every reader of this paper, who has not already tried it, by enclosing ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., may receive sample size bottle by Parcel Post. You can purchase the regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles at all drug stores.

Wooltex apparel for women is handsomer than ever this fall

The modes of the fall season as expressed by Wool-tex coats, suits and skirts are refined, graceful and wonderfully artistic.

While the straight line effect is definitely in vogue, many of the garments are tailored to produce the pleasing ripple effect, that is another characteristic of the season.

The materials used are beautiful in weave, and the color effects are exceptionally charming.

The assemblage of wooltex coats, suits and skirts, which we are now showing, will make a visit to our store a very definite pleasure at this time, and we cordially invite an inspection.

TALKIN' WAR.

Everybody talkin' war—just you come with me
Where the red cheeked apples shine
on the winnow tree.
Just come out to take the mile
That leads to country day,
And let them fuss and fight and bibe,
We'll hear what God's things say.

Everybody's talkin' war—it's time to lend an ear
To something sweet and beautiful and rope with sun and cheer.
Just come out and let them rant,
And we'll go glory stirred
So far from all their fuss and cant
And hear the mockin' bird.

Everybody's talkin' war, and now's
our time to slip Down where there is no bloody strife,
try sings on many a warbling
lip.

Down where there is bloody strife,
No hate and dread and tears,
But everything so glad of life
That it glances it cheers.

Everybody's talkin' war—and what good does it do?

Just come with me where violets
peep and shies are headin' blue
Just come out to grass and tree
And babbling brook and stream,
Where God's things dwell in all the glow

FREAK WORLD IS COMING—

A freaky place this world will be in some 2,000 years or so if the predictions of scientists come near being fulfilled.

Statistics show lately that girls are putting on weight right along and are growing taller with a rapidity which has never been observed before. And, according to all indications, it seems that in the somewhat distant future the "females of the species" will be much taller than the "males." One of the main reasons ascribed to this development is the growing love of sports and outdoor exercises on the part of women. They have more time to devote to sports
while the men are busy pursuing their business interests.

Careful investigation by the British association spread over a lengthy period shows that girls of 13 now, days are taller than the boys of the same age. The most striking development of the girls takes place between the eleventh and thirteenth years. Before that the boys and girls are generally about equal.

The late Dr. Forbes Winslow, a specialist in mental diseases, held that the increase in lunacy was so great that we would all be a mad race in 300 years or more. But he also thought that the mad world might give way in time to a race of geniuses—a state of affairs, which,
in some people's minds, would be just as mad as the mad era preceding it.—Exchange.

A lovely picture of Mrs. Angus A.

"Mr. and Mrs. Acree made Dothan

A Hotel Is Only a Hotel.
No matter what may be said about the drawbacks of the home, a hotel is a cold place for a family. The restlessness manifested by many women or today may have weakened family ties for a time. But there is certainly that young people will marry. After marriage they will reside in a cottage or a flat. The stay-at-homes will ever long for their own fireside. The persistent travelers will lose regard for the home. With the tourists from the Old World, they will be content to endure the accommodations offered by the hotel man.—Troy Record.

All Waste in Coal Done Away With.
Waste in coal has practically been eliminated. Even the waste from the columbium washers is now being utilized, for it is flushed into the mines and partly fills old workings where it cements together, and furnishes support to the roof when the coal previously left for pillars is removed.

Tonic for Courage.
A tonic for courage is the eleventh chapter of Hebrews. A person cannot rise from the reading of this roll
of heroes without being more heroic.
Courage is contagious; we become brave by associating with the brave, in literature and in life. The mind that is stored with the great words of heroism is least likely to stoop to deeds of cowardice.—Nautlius.

Man's Utter Foolishness.
Man is certainly stark mad; he cannot make a worm, and yet he will be making gods by dozens.—Montaigne.

Really Is No Waste Matter.
Scientists and business men are both beginning to understand that in reality there is no such thing as waste matter. The existence of what we call waste or refuse is due merely to our failure to find a proper method of turning it into dollars and cents.

Philosophy and Religion.
Philosophy, says a writer, is a bully that talks very loud, when the danger is at a distance; but the moment she is hard pressed by the enemy, she is not to be found at her post, but leaves the brunt of the battle to be borne by her humbler but steadier comrade, religion.

To Tell When Rain Will Begin to Fall.
First, find the distance of the cloud
by noting how many seconds elapse from the flash till the thunder, and divide the number by 5. This will give the number of miles. Then, after waiting a number of minutes, do the same again. This will show how much nearer the storm is now, or how fast it has approached in so many minutes, and knowing how many miles it is distant, it can easily be ascertained in how many minutes rain will begin to fall.—Exchange.

Small Girl's Nest "Bull."
Bulls do not keep to the farm or in Ireland. Some wander around the house. The other day a small Harlem girl demonstrated how a bull could be made. They were having ice cream
at her house, and her small brother,
having eaten his share, asked: "Mama,
have you any more cream outside?" The little girl replied: "Of course not! If there was any ice cream outside I'd have it in here."

Atavism in Dogs.
Dogs, probably the earliest of domesticated animals, when transferred to a tropical country, such as central Africa, lose in a few generations most of the characteristics they have acquired in Europe, and revert more and more to the type of the jackal and the wolf. Then their ears, whatever their breed, tend to become pointed, their coats turn sandy or rufous and their bark becomes a howl. Some attempt has been made to show that this is the result of disease and resembles the effect of malaria on the human constitution. Yet the Egyptian dog of Phar-aonic times possessed, as is seen by the monuments, these very characteristics; and as he was certainly domesticated before the European animal,
it is probable that these are original features of the race.

Knew His Colleague.
Two Manhattan physicians were enjoying the breeze from the front seat
on the "hurricane deck" of a Riverside Drive bus one afternoon, when part of their conversation was overheard. It ran like this: "I performed an operation for appendicitis on the wife of a millionaire yesterday," said
the stouter of the pair. "Yes," said
the other. "What was she suffering from?"

Foolish to Skimp on Sleep.
It takes from seven to eight hours of sleep for adults to permit the system to scour out the clogging poisons. To skimp on necessary sleep is as bad for efficiency as it would be to allow grit
to accumulate in the bearings of an engine—and for the same mechanical reason.

"Israfel" Angel of Music.
Israfel or Israhil, in Mohammedan
mythology, was the angel of music,
who possesses the most melodious voice of all God's creatures. This is the angel who is to sound the resurrection tremor, and will ravish the ears of the saints in Paradise. Israfel, Gabriel and Michael, were the three angels that warned Abraham of Sodom's destruction. In the Koran we read:
"and the angel Israfel, whose heartstrings are a lute, and who has the sweetest voice of all God's creatures."

Stage Bells.
"Parafal" is interesting, quite apart
from its artistic merit, as having had a musical instrument invented for it and named after it. The reproduction of the sound of church bells in opera was long a difficulty. Itel bells simply drowned the orchestra,
and all substitutes were tried in vain
until Doctor Motl designed the Parafal
bell instrument, somewhat on the principle of the grand piano. Each of its five notes has six strings, which are struck by large hammers covered with cotton wool. And the result is as near to the solemn sound of church bells as the theater has been able to get.

Some Club Suggestions.
The members of a Manchester club were using the "suggestion" book for grumbles rather than for the purpose
which its name implied, and the committee, says the Manchester Guardian, sarcastically put up a notice giving
the dictionary meaning of the word "suggestion." Swiftly two of the grumblers got back at them. One suggested "that beans and their strings be served in separate dishes" and another "that smaller egg spoons be provided or larger eggs."

His Time Had Come.
Again that ringing in his ears! It was the warning he had dreaded. He knew his time had come. Yet, although he had started at the sound, he seemed half-dazed and wholly careless of the consequences. But still the ringing in his ears! "Deat it!" he finally said, and springing from bed
the careworn commuter shut off the alarm clock and proceeded to dress for the 7:10 train.—Puck.

Readin' Not Writin'.
A little girl, visiting away from home, received a joint letter from her parents. Papa's half was typewritten, mamma's postscript written by hand.
Said Mamma in reply: "Dear dad, the letter from you and nuther just came,
the part from you was niceest, 'cause
it was readin' and hers was writin'."

WOMEN CAN HARDLY BELIEVE

How Mrs. Hurley Was Restored to Health by Lydia
E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Eldon, Mo.—"I was troubled with displacement, inflammation and female weakness. For two years I could not stand on my feet
long at a time and I could not walk two blocks without enduring cutting and drawing pains down
my right side which increased every month. I have been at that time purple
in the face and would walk the floor. I could not lie down or sit still sometimes for a day and a night at a time. I was nervous, and had very little appetite, no ambition, melancholy,
and often felt as though I had not a friend in the world. After I had tried most every female remedy without success, my mother-in-law advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so and gained in strength every day. I have now no trouble in any way and highly praise your medicine. It advertises itself."—Mrs.
S. T. HURLEY, Eldon, Missouri.

Remember, the remedy which did
this was Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For sale everywhere.

It has helped thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors,
irregularities, periodic pains, backache,
that bearing down feeling, indigestion,
and nervous prostration, after all other remedies have failed. Why don't you try it? Lydia E. Pinkham's Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Cyclones of Peculiar Shape.
Cyclones are nearly always funneshaped, although sometimes they may resemble an hour glass. The Shelby-ville, Tenn., storm was said to have had two wings and to have looked like a large, slender bird. These cyclones descended and came to the ground with great fury.

How To Give Quinine To Children.
"FRUITIN" is the trade-mark name given to an approved Quinine. It is Tasteless, Sweet, pleasant to take, and does not disturb the stomach.
Children take it and never know it is Quinine,
also especially adapted to adults who cannot take ordinary Quinine. Does not nauseate nor cause nervousness or tingling in the head. Try it the next time you need Quinine for any purpose. Ask for "Fruitin" original packaging. The name "FRUITIN" is blown in bottle. 25 cents.
